

Wanuskewin Dance Troupe

The Wanuskewin Dance Troupe was created to showcase Indigenous traditional powwow dance styles, and singing, from the Northern Plains region. Many of the performances feature champion dancers of various traditional and contemporary dance styles and music, from Treaty 6 area and across Turtle Island. Through song and dance, both Indigenous and non-Indigenous audiences gain an appreciation of the diversity of Indigenous cultures.

You will experience the beauty of a living culture through colour, sound and movement. These artists are leaders and role models for youth in the importance of maintaining, practicing, and revitalizing the values of Indigenous culture.

We welcome you to learn more about the history of these dance styles and songs while watching the beautiful and meaningful dance presentations, feeling the heartbeat of the drum, and listening to the stories of each individual presenter.

miigwech, maarsii, kinanâskomitin, thank you!
